CHARGE TREASURER MISAPPLIED FUNDS

Used Money Appropriated for Other Sources to Pay for Work-Rector Says Action Is Violation of Law.

Little Rock, Ark., August 9.-Assistant Attorney General Henry Rector Monday afternoon issued two official opinions to county and district officials. He informs the county judge of Columbia county he has the right to purchase field notes for the county surveyors using the appropriation for the purchase of tools, holding the field "WILL PROVE HIS notes to be a very valuable tool.

The other opinion is to George W Clark, prosecuting attorney of the Seventh Judicial Circuit. W. L. Graham, former treasurer of Monroe county, paid out $4,041 which belonged to certain funds, on work done under other departments, or in other words, overdrew on certain funds by borrowing from others, and Parker C. Ewan, the present treasurer, desired the county court to permit him to pay back from one fund to the other to straighten the accounts. He asked the county judge to approve such a settlement and through Prosecuting whether a chancery court would entertain a bill for relief. The attorney general further states the county should bear half the expense of auditing the books of the former treasurer, for without the auditing it could not proceed against the bondsmen.

CHARGES FALSE'

Mrs. Emily Egolf Replies to Charges Made by Her Husband in Divorce Proceedings in Kansas City.

The Kansas City Star of the 6th contained the following notice:

William D. Egolf, a real estate dealer with offices in the Gumble building, brought suit this morning Attorney Clarke the attorney general was appealed to.

He holds that the county judge has no right to approve any such settlement, and to do so would but license the treasurer to violate a section of fundamental law. The attorney general does not go into the question of whether a chancery court would entertain a hill for relief. The attorney general does not go into the distribution of the settlement of t

In reply to the charges The Kansas City Star of the 8th contained the following statement from Mrs. Egolf:

"My husband has taken advantage of me," Mrs. J. Emily Egolf, against whom her husband William D. Egolf. brought a divorce suit last Saturday, said last night. "I filed a divorce suit against him some time against h making accusations against me. Hi petition names a co-respondent and i will be impossible for me to refute the charges until the trial in October. I will prove his charges false when the proper time comes."

Mr. and Mrs. Egolf are well known in Mena. Mr. Egolf was in business here a number of years ago and since moving to Kansas City Mrs. Egolf has visited here several times.

HARRY MYERS SPEAKS

His Praise for Roosevelt Brings Applause. But None for the Name of Taft.

Harry H. Myers, superintendent of the Hot Springs Reservation, ex-candidate for governor of Arkansas on the Republican ticket and an exceedingly clever speaker, addressed an audience at the court house, beginning at 10 o'clock and closing at about 11:30 Friday.

The court room was quite well filled with people and several ladies were

In a strong logical way and with enough jokes and many beautiful sentiments expressed, the speaker held the close attention of his audience for the full time.

Mr. Myers started out by telling why he was a Republican, referring with pride to the great men and the record of the party, past and present. The only applause was when he spoke of Roosevelt. Much of his address was on the tariff question, followed by an argument against the Democratic party of Arkansas for the lack of progress and closed with complimetary remarks for Judge Andrew Roland of Hot Springs county, the Republican candidate for governor, and F. M. Reeves, candidate for representative on the Republican ticket in this county.

The W. O. W. band, which came out to furnish music before the speaking, was highly complimented by Mr. Myers at the close of his address.

Mr. Myers left in the afternoon for De Queen, where he spoke that

J. H. Naler Says That Polk County Lands Equal the Best There and Can Be Had for Much Less.

J. H. Naler has returned from Texas where he was called on the 4th inst. to attend the funeral of a sister's husband, J. C. Wilson, who died at his home at Dallas. He was buried at Moody, Tex., last Saturday. It will be remembered, that Mr Wilson spent last summer in Mena Mrs. Wilson is expected to come here soon to spend some time.

Mr. Naler says the crops in Texas, so far as he saw, were no better than why people will pay $100 per acre for land in Texas when they can buy land in Polk county, Ark., from $5.00 to The wind came from the east, and $20 that will produce as much per }

He says if the people in Polk county would build the land, make it rich, we would gather more from the acres than Texas can raise.

He saw a man running a scraper through his cotton to fill up the cracks, to keep the ground from drying out, and that land sells for $100 per acre simply because the country is advertised.

Mr. Naler says he was very glad to get back to Mena and get a drink of the best water to be found. He lived over 30 years in Texas and hopes to live a long time in Polk county.
